ABOUT

As Studio Leader / Associate Principal for EDI's Austin Office, Michael is responsible for supporting the Multi-family Studio and reports directly to Brit Perkins. Michael is in charge of growth, revenue, profitability, project management, design, staff management and client relationships. He nurtures a positive, team-oriented environment, ensuring financial goals and deadlines are being met, and assisting Brit in business development.

Michael's background includes the design of high-rise towers, translating designs into Revit Design Development documents through the Construction Administration phase. A native of Louisiana, Michael grew up in Cajun country, where the pace of life is markedly slower. This way of living influenced his design philosophy. Good design takes time, like gumbo, it's always better the next day. Michael is equally comfortable developing a single family home to designing a corporate campus. His experience includes Corning research labs, Bio Medical labs for University of Texas, Starbucks roll out, 3M Research Campus and SHI Corporate Campus.
