ABOUT

As a Principal / Director of Hospitality at EDI, Rebecca is responsible for all aspects of the Hospitality Team. She manages the design process and project implementation from inception through completion, ensuring that projects stay on schedule and within budget, as well as staff planning and scheduling, and overseeing the execution of design.

Rebecca has accumulated a great deal of experience in the design of hotels, clubs, spas and restaurants. Her project experience ranges from the economy hotel product to high-end boutique properties and private clubs. She is versatile in her design approach: able to identify potential issues and problem-solve their solutions while maintaining loyalty to the design. Her LEED certification offers her clients the valuable resource of not only providing LEED services, but also cost-effective ways of achieving sustainability into their projects.

DANA HOTEL & SPA Client: Neighborhood Development Crop

The dana hotel & spa provides an urban destination catering to the discriminating guest seeking recognition, service, modern style, and sophisticated amenities in an unpretentious restrained setting.

To accomplish full service amenities within a small footprint, the Lobby, Bar and Restaurant were conceived as one flowing space connected by stairs, ramps and a glowing elevator allowing guests to move through individual spaces but still have the sense of one coherent theme.

Interior finishes and color schemes were conceived based on their visual and physical texture rather than color. In contrast to the interior architecture, bright strong colors in the fabrics are used in limited quantities to allow the materials to make the special statement. The textured waving wood wall binds the spaces together and gives the smaller scaled elements of design and people a backdrop opened to the street..
